

Science Laboratory

The College's natural science laboratory provides opportunities for students to practice what they have learned and draw correlations between theory and biological, chemical, and natural processes that occur in the human body, other organisms and in nature.