

HPED/NURS935 : Contemporary Issues and Diversity in Education

This course engages students in emerging and current issues in nursing education. Emphasis is placed on diversity and academic integrity within the context of higher education. Students will explore rights, responsibilities, and action plans related to current issues. Students will devise action oriented solutions to contemporary issues.

Credits 3