

Distance Education

Bryan College of Health Sciences offers the option of taking courses in a more flexible environment in an online or hybrid format. Distance Education is incorporated into most programs in the College. The Distance Education Director works with faculty and administration to provide quality courses and services for all students in the program regardless of location. Refer to the course registration guide for courses offered in hybrid or online format. For more detail and answers to your questions, please contact the Distance Education Director by phone (402-481-8065) or by email at deb.maeder@bryanhealthcollege.edu.
