

NRAN770 : Advanced Anatomy

Provides an intensive study of the major anatomical systems and regions of the body. Although all organ systems will be included, particular emphasis is devoted to the respiratory system, cardiovascular system, and nervous system. Regional topics include the anatomy of the head, neck, vertebral column, thorax, axilla, extremities, and femoral triangle.

Credits

3

Prerequisites

Admission to DNAP or permission of instructor.